CLIPPER GETS WORDS OF THANKS

Alabama State Trooper Jack Weekly, right, is shown presenting a Certificate of Appreciation to Ferrin Cox, publisher of The Elba Clipper.

The certificate is for the continuing outstanding help the Clipper has given the troopers with all their highway safety programs. Weekly and Trooper R.W. Whitworth, center, both said, "We can always depend on The Elba Clipper to assist us with badly needed safety programs."

On display during the meeting were many of the special decorations the committee has ordered to use

Perry Finder Still Needs Help

Last spring, Perry Finder, a first grader at Elba Elementary School, was stricken with encephalitis. He was admitted to Children's Hospital in Birmingham on May 2nd and released on June 5. Part of this time Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Finder, was in coma, and spent a number of weeks in intensive care. Since his release, he has been receiving therapy at the Elba General Hospital for two days a week, and at home for one day a week. Miss Linda Justison is the therapist working with Perry. Miss Justison says that Perry "is making good progress, but he needs a wheelchair. Perry has no movement in his body whatsoever, and must be carried, usually by his mother. His father recently returned to his job at Dorsey's.

City Council Meeting Was Short One

The city council meeting Tuesday night was probably the shortest on record for this particular council. The meeting didn't start at the seven o'clock starting time but about ten or fifteen minutes later. It was over at 8:30. Missing was Councilman Charles Ellis, who will undoubtedly be accused of causing all the late meetings in the past. All other members were present. In the absence of City Clerk Jack Prescott, the minutes were kept by policeman Pete Daugherty. Present for the meeting were Mrs. Fred Moore, Gordon Brown and Ferrin Cox, publisher of the Elba Clipper. Mrs. Moore was present to observe; Brown was applying for the recreation director's job. Brown, of Enterprise, told the council of his qualifications for the recreation job and answered some questions, including one that he was getting married shortly. After this he left the meeting.

The council then discussed the other applications that had been turned in to the City Clerk. They included several from Elba and three from out of town, including Brown's and one from Georgia.

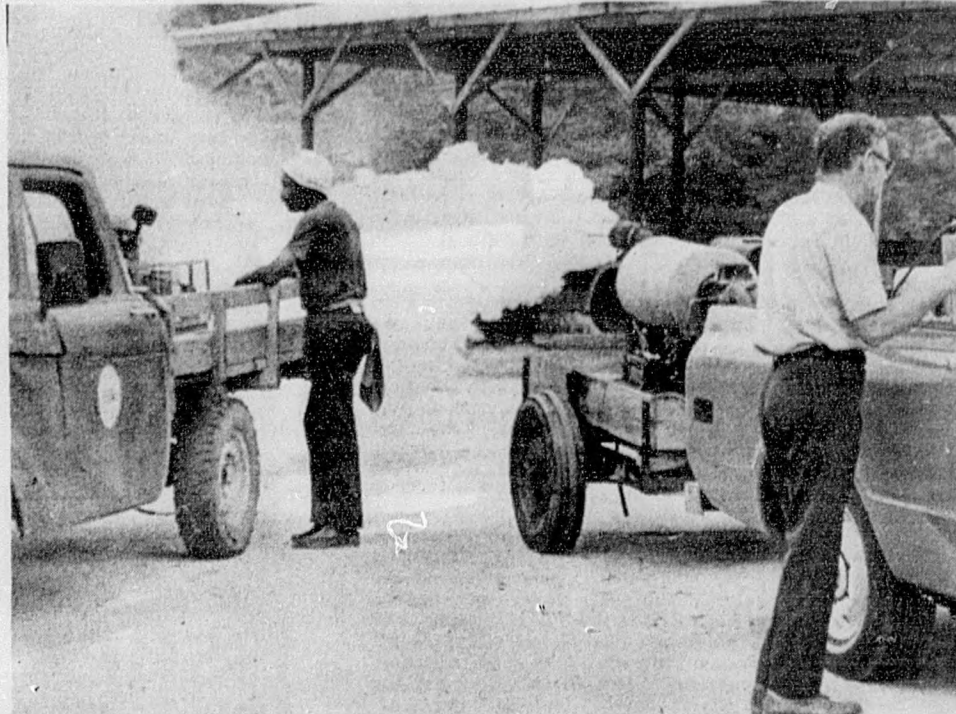

Ronnie Vaughan made a motion to narrow the field to three and interview the three at the next meeting (Sept. 16). Wayland Sharpless seconded the motion and it passed unanimously. Then began the discussion to select the three to be considered further.

Finally the field had been narrowed to four, including Brown, Jack Holley, I.F. (BO) Dunaway and Alvin Cordell, the present part time director. At this time Sharpless made a motion to include Brown in the consideration, even though it was not necessary to interview him again. Coleman seconded the motion and all voted for it except Vaughan, who was opposed. Airport Engineer, Henry Padgett, gave a very short report on progress to extend the North-South runway at the local airport.

The branch manager will be Charles Guinn, who will move to Nashville from Birmingham, where for three years he managed a branch for Trillmobile.

Three departmental executives with the Parsons operation since it opened three years ago will continue in the same positions with Dorsey. They are Bobby McCarty, service manager, who has 15 years experience in the trucking industry; James Booth, parts manager, whose background includes 25 years in trucking; and Reuben Cline, who has been in truck and trailer sales for 18 years.

Dorsey builds a complete line of trailers for hauling all types of dry freight, perishables, bulk materials, lumber, metal products and heavy machinery. The main factory is at Elba and a second plant, at Wharf, Pa., builds dump trailers.

City Launches Attack On Mosquito Swarms

The City of Elba has launched an all-out war against mosquitoes. Normally one truck is used to spray for the pest, but due to almost daily rain and the threat of encephalitis hitting the area, two spray trucks are in use at this time. Superintendent Johnny Ward told this newspaper, "We are going to get some of those mosquitoes." The Coffee County Health Department has released the following information on potential risks: In an effort to keep the public informed on the potential risks in encephalitis and other mosquito carried diseases, we are, at this time, urging each individual citizen throughout Coffee County, including all municipalities, to take the following precautions due to the existing conditions: 1. We have had excessive amounts of rainfall this year which, in turn, has created ideal conditions for an extremely large mosquito population. 2. Encephalitis is carried on a long-range basis and chiefly by birds. We are sure that the public has heard of the problems in Mississippi, Birmingham, and Chicago related to encephalitis. Transmittal of these diseases from birds and animals to humans is through mosquito bites. The following actions and precautions are advised at this time to all citizens of this county: 1. Survey your own premises and property and eliminate all water holding containers in the area which may be or may become breeding places for mosquitoes. (2) Cut, clean, and clear all areas on your premises which are overgrown and may provide harborage areas for mosquitoes. (3) Check your own dwelling for worn screening and repair where needed to prevent entrance of mosquitoes into your home. (4) Avoid, if at all possible, being in areas after dark where mosquitoes are prevalent. (5) If you must be in areas where there is the possibility of being bitten, take precaution by wearing protective clothing and using insect repellent. (6) The use of insecticides is recommended when needed. At this time there has been no confirmed cases of encephalitis in Coffee County, but we are stressing the need for keeping a cool head, a calm mind, and that through working individually and together you, as a citizen of Coffee County, can help eliminate the mosquito problem. The Coffee County Health Department will continue a close surveillance of the situation through the remainder of the mosquito season.

Dorsey Buys Facility PSC Supports Pleas Of Area Citizens

Dorsey Trailers, the Elba Alabama based truck trailer manufacturer, has established a factory branch in Nashville following its purchase of the facilities of Parsons Inc., Truck Trailers located at 1120 Foster Drive. The sale was concluded Aug. 20 by George L. Collier, president of Dorsey and Robert Parsons, Jr., president of Parsons Inc.

The branch will provide a full-line, full-service facility for truckers in the Nashville area and will also enable our distributors in Chattanooga and Knoxville to give better service," Collier said.

The purchase included approximately three acres of ground and a 14,250 square foot steel and masonry building with repair shop equipment. The service department contains 10 trailer bays. The Nashville outlet will stock new Dorsey Trailers and used equipment of all makes.

The branch manager will be Charles Guinn, who will move to Nashville from Birmingham, where for three years he managed a branch for Trillmobile.

Three departmental executives with the Parsons operation since it opened three years ago will continue in the same positions with Dorsey. They are Bobby McCarty, service manager, who has 15 years experience in the trucking industry; James Booth, parts manager, whose background includes 25 years in trucking; and Reuben Cline, who has been in truck and trailer sales for 18 years.

State Tax Low in N.H., Sky-High in Hawaii

The average per capita state tax reached $352 in 1974, up $225 from 1964, reports the Tax Foundation, Inc.

Bureau of the Census data shows Hawaii's residents paying the top per capita state tax of $584. Other high states are Delaware, $538; Minnesota, $470; and New York, $470.

States with low per person state taxes are New Hampshire, $204; South Dakota, $244; and Ohio, $260.

Rainfall In Area To Pass 100 Inches

Rainfall has been heavy in Coffee County this year. Twice during the early part of the year there was extensive flooding in the area and an abnormal amount of rain fell throughout the year.

Mr. J.W. Moody recorded the rainfall in the Elba area on a regular basis and his records verify what everyone felt--a lot of rain fell on Coffee County this year.

During 1974 only 54.4 inches were recorded by Moody. He said this was a very dry year and about 15 to 20 inches below normal. Up to the first of September in 1975, 80.2 inches of rain have already fallen on the area. The rainfall in 1973 only totaled 72.2 for the entire year.

Even though there was no flooding during July and August the rainfall for these months was heavy. July recorded 10.2 says Moody and August was good for 11.4 he said.

Moody predicts that the total will exceed 100 inches before the year is out, even though September will be relatively dry. That is what Mr. Moody says.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Folks in Elba were watching the outcome of the mayor-council race in Montgomery almost like it was home folks. Tuesday evening we heard several shouts of glee as Elba citizens found out that Mayor Jim Robinson scored a resounding victory over his four other candidates. I'm not sure why Elba folks were interested unless it was because there is no active politics in this area and Coffee County folks just like to talk politics. Whatever it was I admit that ye ole editor was in the group pulling for Robinson!

The Public Service Commission has voted in favor of leaving the depot open in Elba and New Brockton, in spite of requests by the railroad to serve the area with a moving agent. Very, very often I disagree with Commissioner Jim Zeigler on his decisions, but this time I must be honest and salute him for making the motion to leave them open. All three commissioners voted in favor of supporting the majority of the people in the county rather than the railroad and we are grateful.

Again a foreign country has duped us into believing "we did it" when all the time we have been had. For our #2 president (Luiser) with a little "E" - from now until he disappears - has made some big deals to settle a midwest war. We give them each additional billions of dollars to spend in Russia or somewhere and they promise not to fight any more if their feelings are not hurt. All the time they were after more of the good ole Sugarbush's money and we dumbly give it to them.

A great number of Coffee County people have been asking, "Where is all that money the county had in the bank? We sure don't see what they have done with it." Well, I couldn't answer their questions, but Tuesday afternoon I asked the Probate Judge and all six commissioners the same question. They couldn't answer either, but promptly assigned an employee to come up with a report by next Monday. Each commissioner will get a copy and this newspaper has been promised the original. Now, original or copy doesn't matter, but if the public wants to know, we will do our part to pass on the information.

As expected - the federal courts have ruled that Alabama's prison system - in a shambles and no more prisoners can be jailed until some relief is devised. Now we can cuss the judges or whatever, but I think they are right. Looking back over the years, it is the courts that do everything (except vote pay raises for the legislature). For some reason or another, we elect people who have interests at heart for something other than what we sent them to Montgomery to do.

City officials have started the process of hiring a recreation director, to work full time. Tuesday night we cut the field from nine to four with a promise to make their selection at the next meeting in two weeks. I don't want to make their decision for them, but hope and pray that the selection is made with the idea of improving our fine recreation program and not politics. They have several good applications, but so often politics gets into a situation and the wrong person is hired. This is not to knock the four still in the running, but to remind everyone that the city fathers can come back and add another or another dozen to the list, and this might not be good.

There was a good crowd of people at the Elba-Florida football game Friday night. The Florida people were understanding about the uncompleted stands. This week we revised the date for installing the seats; however, the company has revised again, and we will play a second game with unfinished seats. Last week we published an article about the seats being in by now, but in view of the changes, we can only say we hope to have them by next year.

I have some words for all us football fans (Webster says the word fan is short for fanatic). It seems we don't show the courtesy of applauding the visiting bands as much as other people clap for Elba's band. I realize that no other band is as good as the Elba band, but let's be polite and clap at the end of their half-time performance - OK?

SENATOR SPARKMAN
ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Dear Senator Sparkman: I understand that the Emergency Housing Act was signed by President Ford on July 2, and that new mortgage money is to be made available. Please let me know if this money is now available to those who wish to buy homes.

Sparkman: Funds authorized under the Act are not yet available, because this provision of the Act is subject to appropriations.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved funds amounting to $5 billion to implement the provisions, and this appropriations legislation is now awaiting Conference with the House.

Once this legislation is signed by the President and the funds are released by him, money will be made available at 7 1/2 percent for mortgage loans.

Dear Senator Sparkman: I am concerned over the amount of money required by the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act. As I am sure you are aware, the increased amount of paperwork and typing involved in making a loan increases the cost to the lender, and causes an undue amount of time and expense to the customer. I urge you to look into the problems created by the Act so you may understand what we as lenders are going through.

Sparkman: I am sure you will be interested to know that the Senate Housing Subcommittee, of which I am Chairman, plans to hold hearings in the late fall to consider proposed revisions to the Act. It is our hope that these hearings will provide the basis for revisions in the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act which will eliminate unnecessary paperwork, but which will still carry out the intent of Congress when it enacted this legislation.

Dear Senator Sparkman: Sometime ago you introduced legislation to authorize benefits for victims of lung disease. Can you tell me the status of this much needed proposal?

Sparkman: My bill, which would establish a program for iron ore miners similar to the one for coal miners, still pending in the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, has been scheduled on. Certainly, I shall remember your interest and I will do my best to get this important bill passed.

When my brother James, who had worked so hard and has run so hard to get elected governor, was inaugurated for his first term, he had a military aide who still lives in Montgomery.

His name is Woodrow Scott, major land use and development in Memphis and Hammond, Louisiana, remember him by his nickname, "Bone Crusher."

He had had his big dance at Hanger 6 at Maxwell Field and I had shaken probably more than 7,000 hands. He had come from everywhere, and I literally collapsed from exhaustion.

It was a great success. But, when it came time for James to come home to the mansion he had not, he didn't have a key.

Instead he checked into the Jefferson Davis Hotel in downtown Montgomery. Woodrow Scott still standing serve the citizens.

From this discussion which I feel to be so important and which characterized each session, there emerged a positive resolution of policy and of action which summarized much of the Conference's position. These resolutions form a basic guide for the members in many policy areas for the coming year and represent many hours of information and deliberation as well as an attempt to gain a better position from which to grasp and solve a variety of issues.

For example, from among the seven resolutions which I submitted to the Conference, the Conference consideration and approval, a particular one supporting state reorganization received very strong endorsement by Conference members. Such approval and enthusiasm as I submitted in this instance, the Conference very much represents the very responsible and progressive attitude which prevailed.

Other Alabama resolutions which were adopted include one's own promoting the use of regional primaries in selecting presidential candidates, the continuing need for strengthening programs in vocational training, education, care for the elderly, international trade and cooperation, state tourism, energy development and conservation, and the historic and future role of the office of Lieutenant Governor.

As a result of the major addresses, Conference presentations and other informative messages, there developed a continuing discussion, both formal and informal, among the members, which will prove, I believe, the most valuable product of the entire conference. The Lieutenant Governors, State Senators, Presidents and Secretaries of State repeatedly discovered great similarities in the needs and goals of their respective states. The atmosphere of cooperation and concern which continued to grow throughout the Conference will, I am sure, prove valuable again and again throughout the coming year as the many states search for ways to best

I want to express my very deep appreciation to the many people throughout Alabama whose contributions, time, and talents went into making the Conference the very real success that it was. The citizens of Alabama as well as those of other states may well expect strengthened leadership as a result of our 1975 Conference.

It Happened At The Elementary School

Over the holidays there was a break in at Elba Elementary School. Worksheets were scattered all over the rooms, a chair was tipped on the wall, cups and dirty water were on the doors. Salt and pepper was scattered all over the cafeteria. Police investigated and found that they came in and opened the windows. Also finger prints, hand prints, and footprints were found in the investigation.

For example, from among the seven resolutions which I submitted to the Conference, the Conference consideration and approval, a particular one supporting state reorganization received very strong endorsement by Conference members. Such approval and enthusiasm as I submitted in this instance, the Conference very much represents the very responsible and progressive attitude which prevailed.

Other Alabama resolutions which were adopted include one's own promoting the use of regional primaries in selecting presidential candidates, the continuing need for strengthening programs in vocational training, education, care for the elderly, international trade and cooperation, state tourism, energy development and conservation, and the historic and future role of the office of Lieutenant Governor.

As a result of the major addresses, Conference presentations and other informative messages, there developed a continuing discussion, both formal and informal, among the members, which will prove, I believe, the most valuable product of the entire conference. The Lieutenant Governors, State Senators, Presidents and Secretaries of State repeatedly discovered great similarities in the needs and goals of their respective states. The atmosphere of cooperation and concern which continued to grow throughout the Conference will, I am sure, prove valuable again and again throughout the coming year as the many states search for ways to best

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT WOULD BE DELIGHTED. Plagued by burglars, the stands a dilapidated eatery called the Blue Gill in Mobile. By architectural standards it couldn't pass the code requirements. But the operators Wallace and Evelyn Johnston still hold forth.

And Frank Lloyd Wright would be delighted to witness a testimony to functional architecture. It says, it dips and even leans over its watery foundation. But, they serve good seafood, the best in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

WE REALLY HAD A NIGHT AT HANGAR 6. When my brother James, who had worked so hard and has run so hard to get elected governor, was inaugurated for his first term, he had a military aide who still lives in Montgomery.

His name is Woodrow Scott, major land use and development in Memphis and Hammond, Louisiana, remember him by his nickname, "Bone Crusher."

He had had his big dance at Hanger 6 at Maxwell Field and I had shaken probably more than 7,000 hands. He had come from everywhere, and I literally collapsed from exhaustion.

It was a great success. But, when it came time for James to come home to the mansion he had not, he didn't have a key.

Instead he checked into the Jefferson Davis Hotel in downtown Montgomery. Woodrow Scott still standing

From this discussion which I feel to be so important and which characterized each session, there emerged a positive resolution of policy and of action which summarized much of the Conference's position. These resolutions form a basic guide for the members in many policy areas for the coming year and represent many hours of information and deliberation as well as an attempt to gain a better position from which to grasp and solve a variety of issues.

I want to express my very deep appreciation to the many people throughout Alabama whose contributions, time, and talents went into making the Conference the very real success that it was. The citizens of Alabama as well as those of other states may well expect strengthened leadership as a result of our 1975 Conference.

It Happened At The Elementary School

Over the holidays there was a break in at Elba Elementary School. Worksheets were scattered all over the rooms, a chair was tipped on the wall, cups and dirty water were on the doors. Salt and pepper was scattered all over the cafeteria. Police investigated and found that they came in and opened the windows. Also finger prints, hand prints, and footprints were found in the investigation.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

One of the most widely read books of all times is "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Written in 1789 by Edward Gibbons, the English historian, the book sets forth five basic reasons why great civilizations such as the Roman Empire withered and died. The five reasons are:

1. The undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home, which is the basis for home society.
2. Higher and higher taxes; the spending of public money for free bread and circuses for the populace.
3. The mad race for pleasure, sports becoming every year more exciting, more brutal, and more immoral.
4. The building of great armaments when the real enemy is within and the decay of individual responsibility.

The decay of religion, faith fading into mere form, losing touch with life, losing power to guide people.

The average age of the world's great civilization, Gibbons pointed out, has been 200 years. And in all the world's history all the great nations have passed through this process: from bondage to spiritual faith; from spiritual faith to great courage; from courage to liberty; from liberty to abundance; from abundance to selfishness; from selfishness to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to dependence; from dependence back again to bondage.

The United States in a few months will be 200 years old. What do you think?

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Don't let your feelings fool you. Feeling and looking great is no guarantee of good health. You may have high blood pressure and not know it. This silent disease may be damaging blood vessels throughout your body. And this damage may not be felt until it affects the blood vessels that supply major organs—your heart, kidneys and brain.

High blood pressure has been found in the young as well as middle aged and older people. This means that routine blood pressure measurements should be taken throughout a person's lifetime.

Detecting high blood pressure is simple and painless. There are measures that can effectively control this problem including weight control, medicines and exercise. Because it's chronic, treatment of this disease takes lifelong cooperation between patient and doctor.

SPECIAL INTEREST MEETINGS
HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE—WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT AFFECTS YOU

Would you like to know more about high blood pressure and how it affects you? Then you will want to attend a special interest meeting on September 23 to learn more about it. This program will include the following: explanation of what high blood pressure is, its relationship to general health, and modern methods of treatment and control. Participating in this program will be: Dr. Hugh Pratt, Medical Advisor to Project H.E.L.P. University of Alabama, Birmingham; and Mrs. Anna Louise McKown, R.N., Health Educator.

ation Specialist, Cooperative Extension Service, Auburn University.
BREAKFAST SAUSAGE—what is it?
Did you know that the difference between "pork breakfast sausage" and "pork sausage" is the difference between 50 percent fat and 30 percent fat? Breakfast sausage is a loose term applying to a fatty product that can also include certain byproducts and extenders not permitted in "pork" or "beef" sausage.

So, beware when buying sausage... you may not be getting what you think you are.

COST OF HEALTH FOODS
What makes a health food different from other foods? Is it the price, nutritive value or something else?

In a recent study, samples of 24 different foods were bought at a health food store, and at a supermarket. Included were whole wheat bread, rice, dates, apple juice, and mayonnaise. In comparing the foods, they were tested for pesticide residues, nutritional quality and microbial contamination.

The greatest difference between the health foods and the supermarket foods was found to be the price. The average cost of the health foods was almost twice as much as the supermarket products.

Gen. McMullen Commands Exercise

U.S. Air Force Brigadier General Thomas H. McMullen, son of Mrs. Clements McMullen, 515 Lamont Ave., San Antonio, recently served as deputy commander of the joint task force for exercise Brave Shield XII.

Effective Business Letters

Good typing and fine cotton fiber paper are prerequisites for an effective business letter. But here are some tips aimed at making your letters better "sales reps" for your company.

1. Make your letters simple. Discuss your subject naturally—as you might in conversation—but with a tone of confidence. Nothing is quite so effective as a tone that cries out assurance.

2. Make your letters short and to the point. Avoid needless words and information, as this will bog a reader down and cut down on the urgency of your message.

3. Choose your stationery carefully. A crisp paper with a well-designed letterhead makes a positive statement about your company. And cotton fiber (rag) paper of a good letterhead, contributing greatly to a quality image.

An executive who stops to consider that a letter reflects his company's image on a variety of levels will gain a new self-awareness. And he'll learn the art of subtle persuasiveness.

COFFEE

WORM THE SOIL

Dr. Luther Farrar, plant pathologist at Auburn, hales nematodes. Nematodes damage crop roots and lower yields. The other day at Headland he said, "We worm hogs, cows, chickens and dogs - why not worm the soil?"

Farrar was saying that nematodes in the soil damage plants like worms in animals damage animals. And what he says makes a lot of sense. The best time according to Farrar, to send a sample for nematodes to the laboratory is before crops are harvested. Coffee County fields to be planted in row crops next year should be tested now. By testing now, they can get a much better analysis of the kind of nematodes present and also the numbers. We have complete supplies and information at our office.

THODAN

How many of you with peach trees and a jelly-like substance coming out down near the ground level this year? Were some of your peaches wormy? This condition is caused by the lesser peach tree borer and the peach tree borer. These are the two species in Coffee County. They will attack peach trees and plum trees from several inches above the ground to two to three inches below the ground.

Many times when the ideal day comes to begin plowing up we have several days of rain. On other occasions we have hurricanes threatening down and come back Friday after noon. This is truly a fantastic experience. 4-H Club leaders from 12 southern states attend. The finest instructors in the world are available to lead the leadership shortcourse.

Last year the following attended from Coffee County: Rhonda Killingsworth, Jessie M. Lewis, Nan Bailey, Annie M. Speller and Barbara Ezell.

If you are interested in volunteering for this excellent training, call us at 894-5599.

RECOMMENDED VARIETIES

The following varieties of oats, wheat and rye are recommended for both grazing and grain in Coffee County. Most cattle producers and others who like to have good grazing before Christmas plant rye.

Coffee County was well represented among the 225 attending the Aug. 28 field crops day at the Wiregrass Substation. Headline here part of that county's participants discuss Peanut disease research with Dr. R. Rodriguez-Kabana, researcher of Auburn University Agricultural Experiment Station who appeared on program. Left to right are Al Britt, Rt. 4, Enterprise; Henry Ivey, assistant superintendent of the Substation; Don Gordon, Port Arthur; Mr. Rodriguez-Kabana; Tom Cassidy, Do- Joe County Extension Chairman, and Bob Helms, Rt. 4, Enterprise.

PEANUT HARVEST

We give you a bit of advice on the best time to harvest peanuts. Actually, the only thing we can do is give basic information based on research and farmer experience.

For Coffee County farmers each field is a little different. Oftentimes, a man cannot wait until ideal conditions because he has several small growers can't harvest when they want to because they are depending on other people to shake them and harvest them.

We give you a bit of advice on the best time to harvest peanuts. Actually, the only thing we can do is give basic information based on research and farmer experience.

For Coffee County farmers each field is a little different. Oftentimes, a man cannot wait until ideal conditions because he has several small growers can't harvest when they want to because they are depending on other people to shake them and harvest them.

Many times when the ideal day comes to begin plowing up we have several days of rain. On other occasions we have hurricanes threatening down and come back Friday after noon. This is truly a fantastic experience. 4-H Club leaders from 12 southern states attend. The finest instructors in the world are available to lead the leadership shortcourse.

VIEWS FROM THE PRESSBOX

BY NICKY MULLEN

TIGERS DROP OPENER

Well, another football season has started, and for the third straight year, the "once-powerful" Elba Tigers lost their season opener. In Friday night's 13-12 loss to Florala, the Tigers looked good at times, and then at other times looked pitiful. The only visible bright spot in the loss was the fine play of sophomore running back, Larry Phillips. Phillips, a maverick 5-10, 185-pounder, carried the ball 17 times for 207 yards, and tallied both Tiger touchdowns. Larry not only possesses breakaway speed, but he also packs the power to run over would-be tacklers. If the line can just open Phillips a "crack," (he doesn't need a hole), the sophomore sensation will constantly gain good yardage.

Elba's weaknesses were most visible. The Tiger defensive line was consistently blown back by Florala, allowing the Wildcat backs to gain 4-5 yards per carry. The Tiger front four's tackles were few and far between. As a whole, the Elba linebackers did a fair job. However, the outside linebackers got whipped bad on several occasions, allowing Florala to gain big yardage on the corners.

I hate to criticize, but another area needing work is punt coverage. Florala nearly broke two kicks, and a good team could kill the Tigers if they don't improve.

CAGE COACHES CHANGE JOBS

While football is going full blast, the area basketball scene is taking on a new look. Clayton Bryant, head basketball coach at Andalusia High School since 1967, has resigned his post to accept the position of assistant principal at Andalusia. In his 7 years at the Andalusia helm, Bryant led his team to three state tournaments, and was a semi-finalist last year in the tourney.

Coach Bryant will be replaced as head coach by Richard Robertson. Robertson was the head coach at Woodson High School in Andalusia until it merged with Andalusia High School in 1971. Since then, Robertson has been track coach and B team basketball coach with the Bulldogs.

Craig Purnell, head basketball coach at Kinston High School for 22 years, has been named head basketball coach and Lurien B. Wallace Jr. College in Andalusia. During his tenure at Kinston, Purnell's teams amassed a record of 502 wins and 178 defeats.

In his 22 years at the Kinston helm, Purnell took his teams to eight state playoffs, and state titles in 1966 and 1968. Purnell replaces Tom Steele, who resigned after coaching the Saints for one year.

Elba-GENEVA -- Both teams got whipped last week, but both see good clubs. The Tigers should even their record at 1-1. Elba 20 Geneva 14.

ZION CHAPEL-LOUISVILLE -- The Rebels didn't look real sharp against New Brockton, but if the "Jet" can get off the ground, the Rebels should fly to victory. Zion Chapel 26 Louisville 13.

KINSTON-COTTONWOOD -- The Bulldogs are jumping from the skid into the fire. Kinston will be no match for the powerful Bears. Cottonwood 42 Kinston 0.

REBELS BLAST NEW BROCKTON 36-12

The Zion Chapel Rebels ousted the 1975 football season with a bang last Thursday night by blasting a much-improved New Brockton team, 36-12.

Rebel quarterback Tim Sanders carried the ball on three straight plays, and scored on a four-yard run. Earl Jinnright waltzed over for the two-point conversion, and ZC had the lead for good at 8-6.

The Gamecocks again rammed the ball through the Rebel defense, and drove to a 1st and 10 at the ZC 12-yard line. However, the Rebel defense stiffened and on fourth down and one at the three-yardline, Doug Hollis was stopped for no gain.

After Earl Jinnright blasted out to the seven-yard line, speedy Jet Moultry flew down the sidelines 93 yards for a touchdown. Jinnright added the two-point conversion, and the Rebels led 14-6.

Other ZC rushers included Earl Jinnright, with 13 carries for 71 yards, Tim Sanders with 41 yards in 7 carries, and Larry Pearson, with 25 yards in 4 attempts.

The Rebels were led by quarterback Larry Russell, who rushed for 110 yards in 11 carries.

The winning Rebels were led in rushing by Jet Moultry, who gained 137 yards in 11 carries.

ELBA'S SMITH MOVED TO ROVER

The backbone of any good football team comes on the defensive side of the field and Clemson coach Red Parker and his defensive staff spent the spring and have been working this fall to sure up the Td defense.

The Tigers, who gave up 250 points and 3950 yards, lost four starters via the graduation lines, two who were All-Atlantic Coast Conference standouts, and must find replacements in these areas.

"We have some pretty good athletes on the defensive side," said Parker, who was the Atlantic Coast Conference and state of South Carolina coach of the year after the Tigers posted a 7-4 record in 1974.

The defensive end position, critical against the veer teams such as Clemson, was completely cleaned by graduation, and Parker says, "we have not really been pleased with our play here so far, but we are improving."

Senior Frank Wise heads a list of returnees here with help from Tim Black-welder, Chris Clifford, Gary Kesack and freshman Jonathan Brooks.

The heart of the defense, the down lineman, is one area of shuffling so far, with Jerome Hill and Chad Allen moving between tackle and the middle guard slot, and G.G. Galloway and Jeff Mills manning the tackle positions.

In the secondary, after losing all-ACC standout Peanut Martin in the second game of the season last year, Parker found Dennis Smith, and the Elba native came on to lead the conference in interceptions. With Martin's return the Dozier Tigers jumped off to a 42-0 halftime lead, and the King Kongs will prove too strong. Clio 30 New Brockton 12.

On the second play of the final stanza, John Anthony twisted over from four yards out, and the Wildcats were back in the lead at 13-12.

After the Tigers failed to move, a short punt left Florala in business at the Tiger 31. ## Commissioners Hear Complaints On Roads

The Coffee County Commission met Monday in what turned out to be a rather spicy meeting.

Early reports indicating that due to the items coming up, no arguments were expected; however, road maintenance proved to be the subject that changed this somewhat.

Shortly after returning from lunch, the commissioners met with the County Engineer Bernard Richburg. Elba citizen Robert Folsom appeared before the group and wanted to know why the county couldn't haul four loads of dirt onto the Buck's Branch Road. He said he had offered to spread the dirt if they were too busy, but for several months now he had gotten no results.

The inspection department rides in air conditioned trucks with their noses shining the sun and they can't be stopped," said Folsom. He also said dirt being hauled onto private property was a problem. He said he had offered to spread the dirt if they were too busy, but for several months now he had gotten no results.

Folsom said he had reported the problem on several occasions to commissioners and to the engineer's office, but nothing had been done in correct it. Folsom said the Elba Fire Department had used the road once recently and had to return to Elba in a roundabout way due to the caving of the washout.

The engineer promised to look into the situation. He said he had not been informed of it, though Folsom said he had reported it and Commissioner Flournoy Whitman said he had turned in a request for the work at least three times.

Commissioner Whitman also repeated a complaint he made at the last meeting. He said maintenance of roads in his district was poor with some roads still blocked from previous rains. Richburg showed written instructions he had issued to additional work crews to work on some bad roads. Whitman looked at the report and acknowledged that some of the roads were in District 3. Commissioner Don Smith spoke up and said some roads in District 4 (below Enterprise) were in equally poor shape and the people were demanding relief.

The commission opened bids on liability insurance for the county. After conferring with the county attorney, the commissioners purchased insurance with limits of 10 million dollars from Whitaker-Warren Insurance Agency in Enterprise. The insurance was purchased as the result of recent court rulings knocking down governmental immunity for governmental agencies.

The commissioners voted to purchase paint to paint the downstairs at the county jail, install a shower at the jail and

Foley Modifies Half-Time Pass Out Rule

Lamar Foley, Elba High School principal, in an effort to promote a smoother flow of people at the football games and to eliminate problems at half-time outside the field, requests spectators not to leave the field at half-time.

"All facilities such as rest rooms, first-aid supplies, emergency teams and police are available inside the field to help take care of all spectator needs," said Foley. "However, if spectators find it necessary to leave the field for a period of time, emergency passes will be available at the double gates on the southwest corner of the field for exit at this point."

The cooperation of all spectators will be greatly appreciated, added Foley.

SENATOR CRUM FOSBEE TOLD THE ELBA CLIPPER in a telephone interview Tuesday that he could not allow the superintendent's bill to pass in its present form. He said that he and Representative Jimmy Holley had failed in efforts to reach a compromise on the bill and therefore, it would apparently be taken to the Senate.

This newspaper suggested that a workable compromise might be to amend the bill allowing the election of the court school superintendent, allowing the voters to vote on leaving it appointive or going back to election. This way there would be no question but the majority rule - this is the democratic way. Folsom said he would surely consider this as a fair compromise. However, he said it would be impossible to amend the bill and get it out during this session.

A later call to Representative Jimmy Holley indicated that it was indeed possible to amend the bill and get it out this session if he and Folsom both tried. Holley said he had already prepared an amendment to the bill and that it had been given to Senator Folsom. Folsom did not indicate to the newspaper that he had even heard of this amendment.

Telephone Company Wants Rate Increase

General Telephone Company has filed a request with the Alabama Public Service Commission for a general rate increase in its 38 Alabama operating areas.

The Alabama Division of General Telephone covers 5600 square miles in 11 counties and serves 116,000 telephones, the heaviest concentration being in Southeast Alabama. The division headquarters is located in Dothan.

In its request, the company asked that the revised rates be effective October 1, 1975. The request includes $2.4 million in rates that are presently being billed under bond from the company's previous rate case, which dates back to 1973. This case is under appeal to the Alabama Supreme Court.

Under the proposed rate increase, General Telephone's business customers would see their rates go up 70 to 80¢ over the present monthly charge.

In addition to the increase in basic monthly charges, the request includes increased installation charges, a 20¢ pay-to-installation rate and Directory Assistance charges. The overall increase throughout General's Alabama operating areas would amount to approximately $1.4 million per year over rates presently being paid. Nearly one-half of the increased revenues would be paid in federal, state and local taxes.

Vice President and General Manager, W. L. Eitz, said the company is faced with an unprecedented increase in the cost of doing business, whether it be the cost of labor, material, supplies or the cost of debt - the cost of new capital to finance new construction.
